SCOPE BOUNDARY

No completed-result claim

This case-study record contains two distinct builders-clean evidence groups: four Principal Project Management interior photographs and four PACS Marine warehouse photographs. The images are deliberately not presented as one location, one programme or an endorsement by either organisation. The available evidence establishes pre-clean project context only. It does not confirm building size, contract value, residue type, programme length, cleaning specification or completed outcome.

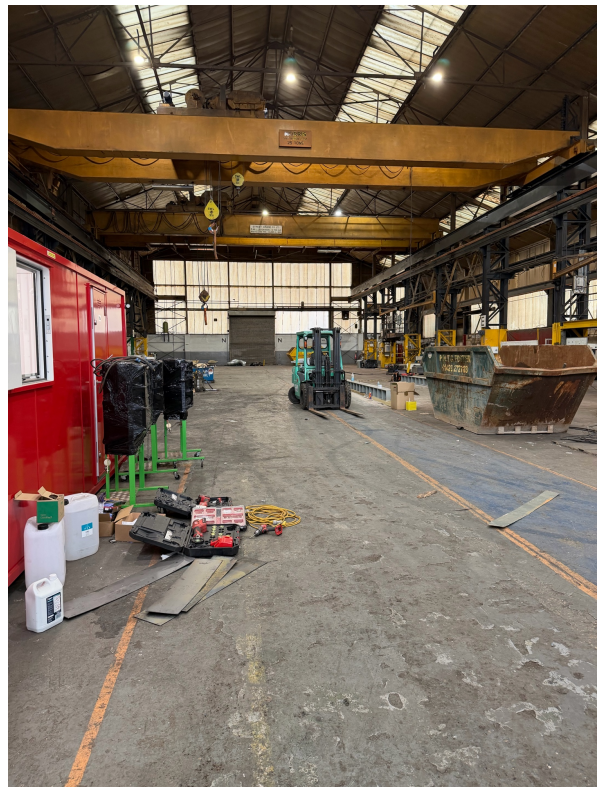

PROJECT CONTEXT

Scope and method boundaries

PROJECT-SPECIFIC PLANNING

Builders-clean requirements vary between an internal refurbishment environment and a large warehouse setting. The useful operational starting point is therefore a defined project brief: identify the work areas, agree the relevant construction-stage condition, establish access and sequence, and keep the scope aligned to the actual handover requirement.

CLEANWISE uses the evidence to keep commercial project conversations accurate. The final detail of a builders clean—such as materials, work stages, safe access, exclusions and timing—is confirmed against the individual project rather than carried across from another site.

SUPPLIED PROJECT EVIDENCE

THE CLEANWISE APPROACH

Start with the documented condition and agreed scope.

A suitable project method is confirmed against the individual property, access and handover requirement rather than assumed from a photograph alone.

An organised delivery frame

WHAT A CLEAR PROJECT PLAN LOOKS LIKE

CONTEXT FOR THE AGREED SCOPE

01 · SEPARATE

Keep Principal Project Management and PACS Marine evidence as distinct project groups.

02 · REVIEW

Confirm the actual construction-stage condition, access and proposed handover scope.

03 · AGREE

Define the project-specific builders-clean activities and working sequence.

04 · RECORD

Maintain factual evidence without overstating a finished result or client relationship.

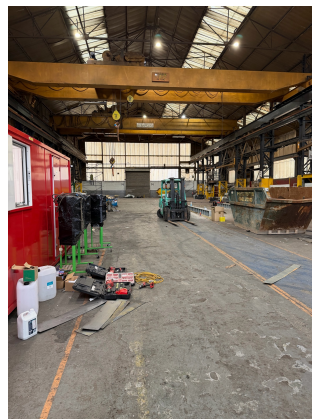

CLEANWISE uses this project frame to keep an enquiry organised: establish the real condition, define the requested work, confirm the property-specific arrangements and record the agreed scope clearly. This is a planning structure, not a claim that every building or project will require the same method.

EVIDENCE BOUNDARY

The first evidence group shows Principal Project Management interior conditions; the second shows PACS Marine warehouse conditions. Both groups are pre-clean context and are not represented as completed work or third-party endorsements.

- Images remain in their confirmed project context.
- Project descriptions avoid unsupported technical claims.
- No client endorsement or broader contract is inferred.
- Future requirements are reviewed on their own merits.
